No-Visit List Information
Submitting this application will place the listed residence on the city’s No-Visit list. All peddlers, solicitors, and/or canvassers within the city limits of Excelsior Springs must abide by the No-Visit list. It could take up to three months for your residence to be on all No-visit lists supplied to such peddlers, solicitors, or canvassers at the time they obtain their identification card. If any such person(s) visits your residence, please contact the police department for enforcement action to be taken. You can request to be removed from the No-Visit List at any time. The published No-Visit list will only include your street address (no names, phone numbers, etc.).
Acknowledgement
The undersigned individual does hereby certify that he/she is authorized to act on behalf of the listed residence and knowingly requests to be added to the Excelsior Springs “No-Visit List.”

No-Visit List - Frequently Asked Questions:

1. What is the No-Visit List?

The No-Visit list is similar to the state and federal No-Call lists for telemarketers. The No-Visit list establishes residences within the City of Excelsior Springs that are essentially “off-limits” to peddlers, solicitors and canvassers.

2. Can political issue/candidates or religious canvassers visit my residence after I sign up for the No-Visit List?

No. All peddlers, solicitors, and canvassers (including political and religious) must abide by the No-Visit list.

3. Can handbills or flyers be left on my door or property?

No. The city ordinance specifically states that handbills and flyers can not be placed or left upon any property listed on the city’s No-Visit list.

4. If I see someone going door-to-door should I call the police?

No, probably not. If they are properly licensed (have completed an application and received an identification card from the Excelsior Springs Police Department), they may conduct the door-to-door activities per their application. The identification card they receive from the police department must be reasonably visible on their outer clothing. As long as they do not visit residences on the No-Visit list and the ID card is visible, they are complying with the city ordinance.
